The convention final program will be available during registration hours in the Indiana Convention Center.

Dear Colleagues,

The National Catholic Educational Association and the National Parish Catechetical Directors department will hold its annual convention/convocation in Indianapolis, Indiana from March 25-28, 2008. This is your invitation to join educators, catechists, church leaders, board members, parents and priests from across the country and from the international community to explore the convention theme, "Crossroads – Where Challenge Meets Opportunity."

The convention/convocation is a wonderful event. Our staff and the members of the executive committees worked hard to plan sessions and schedule keynote speakers which will be inspiring and educational. The local Indianapolis committee has planned liturgies and activities with you in mind. Notice all the interesting and educational offerings as you read through this preliminary program. I am sure you will want to be part of this meeting.

Indianapolis is a wonderful convention city. It is an easy place to get around. You will find hotels, excellent restaurants and parish churches all within walking distance from the convention center. Indianapolis is a family-friendly place with places to visit and things to do.

Included in this program is information on housing, special events, tours and registration, all of which can also be found on-line at www.ncea.org (click on annual convention).

Join us to celebrate and to pray, to learn and share experiences with others and affirm our mission.

Sincerely,

Karen M. Ristau
President

November, 2007

Dear Colleagues,

Welcome to Indianapolis, the Crossroads of America! We are excited to invite you to the NCEA Conference being held in our beautiful city March 25-28, 2008. Besides attending liturgies, hearing some outstanding speakers in their respective fields, mingling with colleagues from all over the globe, you will also have the opportunity to visit St. Mary-of-the-Woods College, which was founded by St. Theodora Guerin, our newest American saint and the first saint for Indiana.

It may seem early to make your plans, but you know how quickly the program year passes, and we want to make sure you have your hotel and conference registrations in plenty of time. Registration is available on the NCEA website. There is a listing of hotels that are easily accessible by skywalk to the Convention Center. No matter what the temperature in our fair city, you will not have to venture outside. Isn't that the best news? No more shuttling back and forth!

Our teachers and catechists are anxious for you to see the amazing accomplishments of our students in both our schools and our faith formation programs. We are proud of the fact that we lead the nation in the number of Catholic schools which have attained NCLB Blue Ribbon status.

As the Executive Director of Catholic Education and Faith Formation for the Archdiocese of Indianapolis, it is my pleasure to invite you to join your fellow educators and catechists to an amazing week of spiritual and educational development. Join us at the Crossroads: Where Challenge Meets Opportunity.

God bless,

Annette "Mickey" Lentz
Executive Director,
Catholic Education and Faith Formation
Archdiocese of Indianapolis

Department of Elementary Schools

The Elementary Department will offer a stimulating range of workshops for principals and teachers. We will offer a major session on Thursday afternoon, March 27 with Sr. Joyce Rupp, the well-known writer, retreat director and conference speaker, whose books and presentations have provided inspiration to thousands. Building on our convention theme of “crossroads and challenges,” she will explore the hindrances and gifts we face on the journey of life, discussing life’s crossroads as opportunities for growing deeper in faith, becoming more alive with compassion, and increasingly inspired to focus on what matters most in life and ministry. On Wednesday, there will be a special double session with Dr. Lorraine Ozar and Dr. Michael Boyle of the Center for Catholic School Effectiveness at Loyola University Chicago for K-12 educators. This session will focus on the principles of “universal design” for instruction as a systematic approach for the prevention of academic and behavioral difficulties. It will build upon the material that Lorraine and Mike have contributed to this year’s edition of NCEA NOTES. Also on Wednesday, Sr. Angela Ann Zukowski, MHSH, the Director of the Institute for Pastoral Initiatives at the University of Dayton, will conduct an extended session on “Becoming a Beatitude Community” for Pastors, Principals and DREs.

Dr. Lou Whitaker returns this year with a multimedia presentation based on the latest neurological research that will provide strategies to challenge, motivate and engage students. She will also show how teaching students to mind map can improve attitudes and enhance learning. Brother William Clifford, Associate Superintendent for Instruction and Technology for the Diocese of Brooklyn, will offer valuable advice on the integration of technology into the curriculum. Dr. Candace Poindexter and Dr. Irene Oliver from Loyola Marymount University in Los Angeles will share strategies for integrating differentiated instruction into a caring learning community.

CACE Conversations 2008: Faith Formation for Adults

The General Catechetical Directory highlights the need for renewed attention to adult catechesis. Living our faith as Catholic adults requires on-going spiritual and intellectual development today. Simple childhood formation is not able to meet the challenges we face as adult disciples trying to live and deepen our communion with the Lord. As Chief Administrators of Catholic Education, we share the responsibility of providing intentional formation programs for principals, faculties and staffs, catechetical leaders and catechists so that they might effectively witness to those whom they serve.

During the 2008 CACE Conversation, Maureen Shaughnessy, SC and Dr. Michael Steier will lead participants in exploring insights from the U.S. Bishops’ documents Our Hearts Were Burning Within Us, the National Directory for Catechesis, and the United States Catholic Catechism for Adults on forming adults for discipleship.

CACE Conversations will take place during the 2008 NCEA Annual Convention in Indianapolis on Wednesday, March 26, 2008 from 1:15 – 4:15 pm in room 145/146 of the Indianapolis Convention Center.

Department of Religious Education/NPCD Convocation

Join the Department of Religious Education for over 80 Religious Education workshops for teachers, DRE’s, principals, and a special track on Thursday for Catechists. Topics range from Islam with Rev. Dr. Elias D. Mallon to the St. John’s Illuminated Bible with Tim Ternes. All Convention attendees are invited to attend the following NPCD Convocation events: a keynote by 2008 Emmaus Awardee Daniel S. Mulhall on The Single Most Critical Factor: Celebrating Professional Catechetical Leaders on Thursday at 1:30 pm at the Convention Center; ValLimar Jansen will deliver a keynote on The Exciting Crossroads Experience on Wednesday at 1:30 pm; Taize prayer with David Anderson on Wednesday at 4:30 pm at the Hyatt Regency; a special Religion Publishers’ Showcase at the Hyatt Regency on Tuesday from 7 – 9:15 pm; and Entertainment following NPCD Annual Awards Banquet March 27 at 8:30 pm.

Department of Secondary Schools

The Secondary Department will host the “Common Ground” room where focus group discussions, social networking activities, and special interest presentations will take place. The “Common Ground” room will also provide secondary attendees a comfortable space to mingle and rest between sessions. Another addition to the program includes site visits to nearby Roncalli and Cardinal Ritter high schools to witness local special needs, environmental awareness, and fine arts initiatives. On Wednesday at 10:45 am, at the Secondary Schools Convocation and Awards ceremony Sr. Mary Angela Shaughnessy will receive the Michael Guerra Leadership Award and deliver the convocation address. On Thursday at noon, the Secondary Schools Business Lunch will report to regional representatives on NCEA projects and executive committee election results. Many of this year’s presentations will highlight technology programs that redefine traditional learning environments. These presentations include students from Conwell-Egan high school on the EAST (Environmental and spatial Technology) Initiative, Mary Ellen Scott from St. Edward high school on how to start and maintain a successful pre-engineering program, Dr. Carl Lecher from Marian College on Developing and Implementing ‘Green Chemistry’ Initiatives, and technology director Mr. Kim Kovesci presenting on Current Trends in High School Technology Programs. Other highlights include Brian Blake from the Office of National Drug Control Policy on Student Drug Testing, Dave Gervasio on Managing Tuition Collection and Facilities Maintenance, and Dr. Beverly Chin from the University of Montana on Literature and Diversity Issues. Authors from three recent department publications will also present on their respective educational resources: Engaging Faith in the World, The Care Team Approach, and Building Community through School Success Teams.

Department of Boards and Councils of Catholic Education

A wide variety of topics in 37 sessions will assist those who work collaboratively in school governance, whether through new or experienced advisory or policy-making boards. A special series on marketing your school from various angles will run continuously in Room 212. Samples of other topics you won’t want to miss are board involvement in legal issues, development, advancement, viability and sustainability, strategic planning, principal-board relationships, communication strategies, federal benefits, ethics, and effective meeting techniques. Learn about the best practices of outstanding boards at an awards lunch Wednesday at 11:00 am in White River Ballroom (tickets available at the Boards Department desk). The Perils & Potential of Technology will be the title of the SPICE (Selected Programs for Improving Catholic Education) series in Room 202 on Tues. and Wed., addressing topics from protecting against Internet predators to teaching advanced GIS mapping.

Seminary Department

The Seminary Department will again be hosting two popular workshops on stress reduction, open to all convention-goers. Sr. Mary Em McGlone and Sr. Sheila McGinnis will give “Stress Reduction Techniques for Teachers” and “Stress Reduction Techniques for Students.” Other workshops focus on alcoholism in schools, vocations and data trends. The Seminary Convocation will gather rectors and other seminary leaders to discuss “The priest as a life-long learner,” and will run concurrently with the convention.

General Information

You are invited to attend NCEA's 105th Convention, Exposition and NPCD Convocation, March 25 – 28, 2008. Join us in Indianapolis, Indiana, as educators and others interested in Catholic education come together in the Indiana Convention Center. The theme for this year's Convention is "Crossroads: Where Challenge Meets Opportunity." The General Sessions and Liturgies will be directed at various aspects of this theme. Highlights of the week will be excellent speakers, inspirational liturgies and prayer services, informative departmental sessions and the fellowship of national and international colleagues and friends. Indianapolis hosted the original "First Night" for the NCEA Convention and there are many other exciting activities planned. Join us in Indianapolis and enjoy good times, good food and a great convention.

Meeting Strands

In the preliminary program, all sessions are listed under a specific strand title. For example, delegates who are primarily interested in Early Childhood will find all sessions devoted to that subject listed under the Early Childhood strand for each day. The strands being used are:

Administration
Arts
Boards
Curriculum-Elementary
Curriculum & Instruction /Secondary Schools
Development
Early Adolescence (ages 12-14)
Early Childhood (birth to 8 years of age)
Ecology
Institutional Advancement/Secondary Schools
Leadership/Secondary Schools
Middle Childhood (Ages 8-12)
NPCD Convocation
Pastors Day
Religious Education
Religious Education-Elementary
Religious Education-Secondary
Rural Education
Seminary
Special Learning Needs
Sports & Values
Staff Development
Technology
Urban Education

Anyone interested in these topics will find a complete strand scheduled throughout the week.

Meetings

The meetings will be held at the Indiana Convention Center. Over 350 sessions will be held during the days of the NCEA Convention. Delegates will be able to choose from meetings on every level of Catholic education--elementary, secondary, seminary--in special areas such as religious education, boards of education, development and technologies and in sessions for pastors. In addition to NCEA sessions, the Catholic Library Association will meet at the Embassy Suites Downtown.

Delegates

Anyone working in, or interested in, the welfare of Catholic education is welcome to register and attend the NCEA Convention and Exposition. The Convention meetings and Exposition are open to all professional educators, as well as volunteers in religious education programs, board members, parents, pastors, assistant pastors, development directors, librarians, guidance counselors, and college and university education students and teachers. The non-professional spouse of a registered delegate may also register at a reduced fee and attend the meetings and Exposition. (There is no separate registration for the Exposition only.) Only persons with Convention badges will be admitted.

NPCD Convocation

The NPCD Convocation runs concurrently within the context of the NCEA convention. NPCD Convocation sessions may be found under the NPCD Convocation Strand on page 18. The Hyatt Indianapolis will be the headquarters hotel for NPCD.

Exposition

The display of the latest educational equipment, supplies and services is an integral part of the NCEA annual meeting and is intended to supplement the professional meetings. Approximately 450 companies will display their products and services in over 700 booths. The booths will be located in Halls B-E. Please be sure to visit and talk to the exhibitors.

PLEASE NOTE: The Exposition hours are Tuesday, March 25 – 12:30 pm to 5:30 pm, Wednesday, March 26 – 8:00 am to 4:30 pm and Thursday, March 27 – 8:00 am to 2:30 pm.

Refund checks will be mailed after the Convention. No refunds for registrations will be possible after March 5, 2008.

Badges

NCEA will provide a special badge to each registered delegate. This badge has been specially encoded with your name and address and is to be used to place an order or request information from the exhibitors. Simply hand the badge to the exhibitor instead of handwriting your name and address. The official Convention badge obtained at registration is your ticket of admission to all Convention sessions (except for those events requiring a special ticket of admission) and to the Exposition. All delegates and exhibitors are required to wear the Convention badge for all meetings and when visiting or working at the Exposition. Only persons with Convention badges will be admitted.

Please Note: Badges MAY NOT be shared with non-registered individuals.

Housing

Hotel reservations may be obtained in several ways. You may reserve rooms through the Internet by visiting the NCEA web site at www.ncea.org. The internet reservation system will allow you to enter your information and reserve your room immediately. You will be able to see where the hotels are located and how many rooms are remaining at each hotel. You may also reserve rooms by calling, mailing or faxing the housing form to the NCEA Housing Bureau. The deadline for making reservations through the NCEA Housing Bureau is February 15, 2008. The special rates cannot be guaranteed after that date. Please see the housing form on page 31 for specific instructions for each method of reserving rooms.

Facilities

NCEA keynote, general sessions and liturgies will be held in the Hall A of the Convention Center. Liturgies on Wednesday will be held at Saint John's Catholic Church. Departmental sessions will be held in the Convention Center. The Catholic Library Association meetings will be held at the Embassy Suites Indianapolis Downtown. The NCEA Exposition will be in Halls B-E of the Convention Center.

Convention Headquarters, Press Rooms, Exposition Office

NCEA Convention Headquarters will be located in 115 in the Convention Center. On-site inquiries should be directed to this office. A Convention Information Desk will be located in the Convention Center. The Exposition Office will be located in Show Room 3, on the 2nd floor. NCEA staff will be available to assist you in any way possible in these offices. Look for their staff ribbons.

Inquiries

Pre-convention information about the NCEA 105th Annual Convention, Exposition and NPCD Convocation may be obtained from the NCEA Convention Office, 1077 30th Street, NW, Suite 100, Washington, DC 20007, telephone 202-337-6232 or fax 202-333-6706, or by e-mail to convasst@ncea.org.

Courtesy Requests

General session participants are asked to remain seated until the session concludes. Early departures disturb closing remarks and announcements considered imported by other attendees.

Because seating in the meeting rooms is on a first-come first-seated basis, we ask that early arrivals not save seats for those arriving later.

As a courtesy to the speaker and other attendees, please turn off cell phones and pagers before the start of the session.

Reminder:

Decorations, signs, banners and streamers may not be attached, glued, taped, nailed or otherwise fastened to any ceiling, painted surface or wall of the Convention Center or any other meeting facility.

PLEASE NOTE:

Information in this preliminary program is based on information available as of October 12. The complete program for the Convention, Exposition and NPCD Convocation will be found in the final program which will be distributed at the NCEA Registration Desk in the Convention Center beginning at 1 pm.

NOTE: Appearance by a speaker or an exhibitor on the NCEA Convention program does not imply NCEA endorsement. Official endorsements are granted only by the NCEA Board of Directors.
